salary of the employees, working hours and the number of weekdays will be changed, news agency PTI reported.

Meanwhile, a recent study has revealed that a majority of employers in India strongly agree that this 4-day workweek model will help in reducing stress level. Over 60 per cent of the employers strongly agree that the new 4-day workweek model will be successful in uplifting the overall morale of the organisation with job satisfaction and work-life balance, helping to reduce stress and anxiety levels, HR Solutions Genius Consultants said in a report published in April, 2022.

However, 27 per cent of the employers who participated in the survey said they were not sure of its implications on organisations' productivity.

The remaining 11 per cent disagreed with the notion, arguing that the 4-day work model would neither improve nor yield any drastic positive results, it said.

The report is based on a survey conducted online among 1,113 employers and employees between February 1 and March 7 across sectors, including banking and finance, construction and engineering, education, FMCG, hospitality, HR solutions, IT, ITES and BPO, logistics, manufacturing, media, oil and gas.
